For New Building To Be Held Today

A 30-minute ground-breaking ceremony for the start of construction of the new engineering-technology building, on the site opposite Bishop Hall, has been arranged for 3 p. m., Thursday, with Student President John Cox, presiding. Ten university notables representing each class, the alumni, the faculty, and the trustees will wield decorated shovels in a mass ceremonial, accompanied by Russell Everett, class of 1967.

Flags and music will also play a part in this ceremony planned to commemorate the start of the University's second major construction in the less than two years of the University's history. Staking out the building began on Monday with actual excavation slated to begin Thursday or Friday. The structure is slated for completion December 1.

All who are not in class at 3 p. m. are invited to attend the ceremonies.

Proposed Stadium May Honor Barnum

"The ideal memorial for P. T. Barnum would be the Barnum Stadium," said President James H. Halsey in a Scribe interview Monday.

Reiterating his interest in the construction of a football stadium in honor of the father of Bridgeport, Mr. Halsey said, "it's just what the old gentleman would like, if he were still with us."

Regarding the recent proposal to Mayor McLevy that UB and the city of Bridgeport join forces in building the stadium, Mr. Halsey said no formal acceptance of the plan had been made.

Mr. Halsey stated his firm belief that Bridgeport should have more than just an annual Barnum Day. The proposed stadium would represent "the ideal, permanent gesture."

Marak Chairman of Red Cross At UB

Robert Marak has been appointed general chairman of the Red Cross Chapter at the University of Bridgeport, an announcement has been made by Leonard A. Schine, local Red Cross chairman for college activities, that the chapter is already functioning.

Gerry Wilkins, chairman of entertainment, is planning a visit this month to the Rocky Hill Veteran's hospital. Joachim Hess is in charge of motor service working in cooperation with the chapter.

Douglas Pimm heads the group taking twenty boys from the Orcutt and Middle Street Boys' clubs to a University of Bridgeport baseball game in April. Bob Marak and Thomas Rouse, co-chairmen of disaster, will also work with the chapter. Thora Carr is in charge of the collection of paper, note books, and pencils for shipment to students overseas. Mrs. Doris Hoffman is faculty adviser for the group.

Student Council Reports Progress

The Student Council gave its first report to the student body Wednesday in a general assembly held at the Klein Memorial Auditorium.

President of the Student Council, John Cox, who opened the assembly, welcomed the students and gave a report on the general accomplishments of the Council during the past year.

Mr. Cox was followed by Bob Donaldson, treasurer of the Council, who gave an up to date financial report on the status of student funds after the first year of operation under student distribution and supervision.

Purchase Cards Discussed

John Saccone, co-chairman of the Campus Commission of the National Student Association, reported on the purchase card plan of that organization and the possibilities of its adoption on this campus. He said that if the plan were adopted, it would give student ticket holders a discount on purchases in local establishments cooperating with the plan.

The purposes and progress of the Student Development Fund were explained by Ed Flynn, who urged 100% contribution by the students to go over the $3,000 goal and set

Burghart Co. Wins Building Contract

The O. F. Burghart Construction Company of Bridgeport was awarded the contract for the construction of the new engineering technology building at a price based on a bid of $424,986 at a meeting of the Board of Trustees last Friday.

Specifications for the building were prepared by the architect, C. Wellington Walker, and offered for bidding some time ago, with bids being received and opened last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Walker commented that "the building is a two-story fireproof structure, modern in design, of brick, trimmed with granite, with continuous windows. Over the entrance will be figures cast in aluminum, symbolic of various branches of engineering such as chemistry, physics, and electricity."

Excavation will get underway as soon as the Burghart Company can organize the job. Work should start sometime next week in order that the building can be substantially completed by December 1.

Students Leave for Intercollegiate Legislature in Hartford Tomorrow

Sometime this afternoon seventeen members of the university will leave for Hartford to attend the annual intercollegiate student legislature at the State Capitol, it was announced by Mr. Elmer Weber, faculty adviser.

Scholarships for Nurses Considered

Dean Martha Jayne, of the University of Bridgeport College of Nursing, is a member of the committee that has formulated a new scholarship bill. The bill, sponsored by the State Nurses' Association, is at present being considered by the Education Committee of the State Legislature. The bill calls for six hundred scholarships which will provide half the cost of an education in nursing.

Ray Clarke Elected Secretary of S. C.

Ray Clarke was elected Executive Secretary of the council after the resignation of Stewart Baker. It was agreed to allot $45 to the Mock Legislature to cover living expenses in Hartford.

Because of the poor attendance of the Student Council Advisory Committee, a motion was adopted at the recent meeting to send a letter from the Student Council to each organization represented on the Advisory Committee. The letter will include a statement to the effect that the council judges budgets on the activity of an organization, and on how actively an organization has been represented on the Advisory Committee.

Seniors on Election Committee

The senior members of the council will form the nucleus of the election committee for the purpose of electing council members for the coming year. Ed Flynn, Jim Gaffney, Bob Donaldson, and Al Fredricks were appointed to investigate the possibility of a point system for extra curricular activities.

A motion was adopted to authorize the NSA to continue its plans for the inauguration of the purchase card system on the UB campus.

Members of this year's delegation are Senators John Karlac, and Riegh Carpenter, Jr., and Representatives William Belury, James Gaffney, William Giles, Edna Hindie, Jacqueline Keefe, Thomas McGannon, Anthony Pellegrino, Isadore Pomper, Benjamin Raubvogel, Robert Gleason, Julian Short, Stewart Baker, Kenneth Maloney, Thora Carr, and Walter Nichols.

250 Students to Attend

When the legislature convenes tomorrow morning in the State Capitol building, more than 250 students will present over 100 bills for discussion and action. In order to facilitate proper discussion of these bills, they have been divided into eight groups to be presented before committees, composed of one member from each college attending, before introduced onto the floor of the legislature.

Council Meets 16th; Students Vote 26th

The Student Council moved to postpone the Student Ticket Referendum a second time, last Monday, in order to better acquaint the students with this plan.

Under this proposal, the actual voting has been put off from March 16 until March 26.

Explanation of the issue in question will be voiced at a general assembly at the Klein Memorial Auditorium, Wednesday. A tentative program has been arranged for campus leaders to address the students during the noon hour on both campuses, the week of March 26-28.

Prospective speakers include Riegh Carpenter, Tom McGannon, John Saccone, and Betty Smith.

Support Your Student Government

A year ago, after an intensive campaign and some heated debate, the students at UB went to the polls and overwhelmingly adopted a Student Government Constitution. This constitution was later recognized by such organizations as the National Student Association to be one of the most liberal constitutions in existence today. The students who helped to formulate it were proud of their work and considered the many hours of discussion and debate well spent.

At the student government assembly yesterday, one thing was evident throughout the reports. UB has an alert and active student government. The multitude of projects reported during the program, or included in the progress report distributed at the assembly, bore testimony to the activities of the Council.

On the other side of the ledger, however, the very small number of ballots cast in the election of freshmen council representatives, and the apparent apathy of the Student Council Advisory Committee, seemed to indicate the failure of the Council to impress upon the students the necessity of universal participation in student government.

Every democratic government derives its strength from the interest and support of its constituents, and the only way in which we will continue to have student progress here at UB will be to have all the students active and interested.

For several months now, the student council has had a suggestion box located on each campus available for student problems or recommendations to the Council. To date, very few students have come through with suggestions. In addition, nearly every campus organization has a delegate to the previously mentioned SCAC through whom they may present their problems. Despite all these opportunities, the majority of our students are still content to voice their "beefs" in the snack bar.

Now that the initial organizational problems are over, and the students in general are aware of the progress and problems of their student council, we can look forward confidently to a bigger and better second year of Student Government.—T. M. G.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Letters to the Editor are encouraged by the staff as an outlet for opinions of students and interested individuals regarding all phases of the students' program of activities here at UB. Letters must bear the author's signature, but if the writer so desires his name will be withheld from publication.

To the Editor of Scribe:

One of the more gratifying features of life on this campus has been the spirit of democratic co-operation prevailing among the various strains and creeds of our campus population. This writer holds that this has been the result of an enlightened educational program coupled with a far-sighted administration policy, and has been enthusiastic in its support. But there may be a threat to this system in a recent development: the formation of a sectarian group and the subsequent agitation for one of another faith.

It would indeed be unfortunate if this movement were to be jeopardized by short-sighted organizers. To encourage the establishment of sectarian groups on a non-sectarian campus is to promote competition among them, then rivalry; after that, all the old animosities come to the fore and the cause of equality is undermined. It ought to be considered by these promoters that sectarian groups are valuable where they are intelligently used by mature people; they are out of place where they may serve to foster and promote racial whose ideas are pliable. In the formative years of college, a real danger of the latter exists.

The writer has not wished to attack organized religion, nor has he wished to accuse any sectarian groups of undemocratic practices. Instead, he has tried to caution those would divide us to stop and think about what that would mean to the whole idea of inter-racial and inter-faith relations. It would be tragic if a rare spirit such as ours should be endangered by what seem to be irresponsible tactics.

Sincerely,

GEORGE BAUER

Sorry, Wrong Number

Ed's Note: The following letter was apparently placed in the wrong envelope, and the one meant for the editor of The Scribe sent to the folks at home. Or maybe it's just a gag someone is pulling to get their copy into the paper! At any rate, because it's an interesting piece of literature, I pass it along to you.

Dear Folks,

You are really going to be proud of your daughter this semester. I have been in school a whole month, and I have courageously kept up a "C" average. This college stuff isn't really so hard when you set your mind to it.

I have finally decided to be a "career girl"; boys just don't mean a single thing to me. If you don't believe me, just ask the girls—I haven't had a date for three weeks. Don't you think that I'm just too noble for words? But then, a girl has to sacrifice a lot of trivialities for the better things in life.

Mother, I don't want to frighten you, but I am positive that I need glasses. Please don't get the idea that they are for glamour or any silly thing like that. I really need them. I have already found just the pair I need. They cost $45, but like "Daddy" always says "nothing too costly if it concerns ones' health."

I just don't see how my letting sister use my new formal for a high school party is going to conserve money. She would probably look positively loathesome in it anyway. She should be old enough to know that formals aren't becoming to children her age.

I won't be home next weekend. I have to go to a special meeting at the house. They said something about waxing and polishing. I am getting to be a pretty important person at these meetings, the notice said that I would have the floor all morning.

Well I guess I should get my Spanish for tomorrow, so I will close for now, and have a long chat with you when I get home.

As ever,

Your loving daughter,
Mabel

P.S.—I have just decided that being a career girl wouldn't be living up to my duty as a sorority girl, and as you know, I want to do the right thing. Bob (he's the one that's slightly eccentric) just called for a date.

Books which are signed for at the circulation desk on the blue reserve cards are to be used only in the Library reading room unless the person at the desk gives permission to take those books from the room. Such permission will be refused in cases where faculty members have requested that the book be kept in the Library. New Attendance Regulations Listed by Personnel Office

"Students who take more than three cuts without the expressed permission of the Student Personnel Office and their instructor are going to be dealt with severely," Mr. Alfred R. Wolff, director of counselling, said in an interview last week.

"In the past students have been taking an indifferent attitude toward the attendance regulations and it's time that they realized the importance of abiding by them, and the penalties which may come as a result of breaking the rules," Mr. Wolff stated.

List of Privileges

The list of privileges allowed by the attendance regulations, as formulated by the Special Faculty Committee, are as follows: (1) Students whose names appear on the Dean's List are permitted unlimited cuts, but stand to lose these privileges if they fail to maintain an average of at least 3.0 at mid-semester. (2) Students on probation are not permitted any absences unless they are due to illnesses or are pre-excused. (3) All students are subject to review by the instructor and the Guidance Office when their absences in any course exceed the number of credit hours, (two tardinesses are considered as one absence), at which time the instructor may urge debarment.

Rules Strictly Enforced

To promote these rules, a control system has been put into effect, stating that any student who has one absence, or its equivalent, beyond the number he or she is allowed, will be automatically debarred from class. Reinstatement will be permitted at the discretion of the Guidance Officer.

Students may be reinstated on the basis of pre-excused absences, an excuse from the nurse's office, and in case of extreme emergency, and the Guidance Office reserves the right to conclude whether or not the excuse was for an extreme emergency.

These rules will be enforced strictly, and violators will suffer the consequences, so make a sincere attempt to abide by them for your own good, Mr. Wolff advised.

Open House Held For Little Theatre

A completely re-decorated Little Theater was the scene for an open house party Saturday night, when ten students were presented gifts for their part in the work of re-designing the interior of the Office of Campus Productions' rehearsal hall.

Presented gifts by Mr. Albert Dickason, director of campus productions, and Miss Carolyn Buck, art supervisor, were Steve LePage, Frank Driscoll, Harriett Olanoff, Norden Hahn, Fred Blumberg, Stewart Baker, Bert Arthur, Gerry Wilkins, John Reed and John Kar-lac. The boys were given initialed tie clasps and the girls were given pins depicting the characters they portrayed in Campus Thunder. Miss Olanoff's pin was a cancan dancer and Miss Wilkins' was that of a spinster.

Growth of Theatre Described

More than 100 guests attended the open house. Refreshments were served and entertainment included feats of legerdemani by Mr. LePage. Dr. Harry A. Becker, dean of administration, described the condition of the Little Theater when it was purchased by the college, with horse stalls, carriage garage, and other out-dated equipment.

Donations to the props department of the Campus Productions were made by guests at the party, including books, records, floral displays and other items.

The party was planned by Mr. LePage and Miss Olanoff, assisted by Sheldon Lasnovsky, Mr. Driscoll and Stanley Epstein.

Lasnovsky, Art Director

Sheldon Lasnovsky will be art director for the Office of Campus Productions, Mr. Albert A. Dickason, director of campus productions, announced this week.

Mr. Lasnovsky will become a member of the Board of Directors of campus productions in his new capacity. Others on the board are Everett Matson, business manager, Bertram Arthur, production director, and Norden Hahn, stage director.

Mr. Dickson said that the appointment of a new publicity director, also with the position of member of the board of directors, will be announced during this week.

World Federalists Hold Meeting

The theory of a limited world government, with all countries contributing, was the topic of an open house meeting of the United World Federalists, at Waldemere Hall, March 9.

Mr. William Allen, faculty adviser, said that only through a world government, with constitutional powers greater than that of the United Nations, could the world find peace and cooperation. He said that the only way to avoid a war is through an organization whose principles outlaw war.

Robert Hostage, chairman of the UB chapter of the organization, said that his group wanted to acquaint the student body with the objectives of the World Federalists, and to recruit members for work in Bridgeport.

Members to Teach

Mr. Hostage said that if the organization is to fulfill its goals, its members would have to teach as many people as possible the doctrines of world peace and world government.

Students Increase Fund to $1900

The Student Development Fund campaign had reached a total of $1,922.26 as of Monday, March 15, it was announced by Reigh Carpenter, chairman of the committee.

Two hundred and fifteen pledge cards accounted for $1,394.76 of the total, and a number of unaccounted cards brought the figure to the nineteen hundred dollar mark.

Members of the Student Council under the chairmanship of Reigh Carpenter, are in charge of pledge card distributions, and those helping include Betty Smith, Ed Flynn, Jackie Keefe, John Saccone, Bob Donaldson, Gail Mosher, Bob Ball, Norma Kelly, Bert Arthur, Don Mills, Theresa Bran-nelly and Joseph Biafore.

New Fraternity Formed By Scouts

Students Harvey Seltzer, of Brooklyn, and George Dodds, New York City, in conjunction with John C. Rock, Field Scout Executive, are the enterprisers of the new scout organization being formed on the University of Bridgeport Campus. The new group, Alpha Phi Omega, is to be a local chapter of National Service Fraternity and is being organized jointly by the Pomperaug Council, (Bridgeport Area) Boy Scouts of America, and the students of the University with assistance by Floyd Brewer, Director of Student Activities.

To date, over fifty men have indicated interest, and it is hoped that additional students will give their support in the future. Its purpose is "to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship, and promote service to inhumanity."

The University of Bridgeport approved the preliminary meeting which was held March 10. Consistent with school policy, a local constitution must be evolved, and submitted to school authorities before an official recognition may be obtained.

Evening Student, Myrtle Sherman Enjoys Wide Variety of Activities

By MARGARET BEPKO

Take twenty-four hours, mix well, with unequal portions of teaching, "being taught," designing and making jewelry, designing clothes, and painting, and you have a fairly good picture of a typical day in the life of director of Fairfield schools and of Miss E. Myrtle Sherman, art evening student at UB.

Amazingly enough, Miss Sherman has well co-ordinated all these activities into her schedule and is most content to be constantly at work. Her obvious vitality belies any semblance of fatigue which one would expect to find in a person whose duties are so many.

As art director, she directs activities in ten elementary and Junior High schools in Fairfield. Among her duties in this capacity are teaching in the various schools, supervising art teaching, and, in the business phase of it, ordering art supplies for all schools. Though her supervisory work occupies her day from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., Miss Sherman conducts private classes from 4 to 6 p. m., after which she hurries either to her English Composition class at UB, or to her own studies in the Adult Education classes in Fairfield.

Numerous Activities

The inevitable question, "When do you find time to relax?" is answered by Miss Sherman with—"What most people consider work, I find is pleasant relaxation." She

Race Relations Institute Meets

"We must know the facts before we attempt to attack any social problem," said Dr. Flowerman, guest speaker at the opening session of UB's Race Relations Institute at Fones Lecture Hall last night.

The Institute director, Dr. A. Knepler, introduced President James Halsey, Dr. Joseph Roucek and Evening Director, Dr. Harry Kendall, before slide pictures were shown on the inadequate home life of Bridgeport children.

During the showing of the pictures, the panel group discussed the individual slides, explaining their significance. It was concluded that with more income, prejudice increases. However, if income remains constant, but education increases, then there will be less discrimination.

Next week the Race Institute will meet Tuesday night at 8:00 p. m. at Fones Hall for its second conference this year. The public are invited.

is referring to her hobbies, painting and jewelry making, in which she has successfully combined business and pleasure, a rare and refreshing occurrence. She also designs and makes all her own clothes. One of her proudest achievements was the designing of her lovely home on Parkwood Road in Fairfield; it is noted for its quaint winding stairway which leads to a balcony-like upper hall.

A surprising fact this talented artist reveals is that she had no intentions of even studying art; she was, in fact, enrolled in Mt. Holyoke, when her teachers persuaded her to develop her artistic talents.

Studying History, English

Her decision to attend University of Bridgeport was brought about by the recent Fairfield ruling which requires degrees for teaching positions. A graduate of Central High in Bridgeport, she attended Temple University, and received a teaching certificate from Moore Institute in Philadelphia. Her aim in attending UB is to complete her requirements for her degree. Having taken more art courses than is necessary, she plans to elaborate on her history and English.

Her ambition knows no limit. When she has completed her courses here, she will undoubtedly find some new interest, for her love of work is synonymous with her love of life.

The program for the remainder of the week is Thursday night, Extra-Curricular Activities by Richard Heggie; NSA vice-president for student life from the University of California, and Friday night, Student Government by William Welsh, social studies student at Berea College, Kentucky, and last year's NSA president.

The Winter Quarters of the Hotel Barnum was the scene of the semi-formal dormitory party given by Wistaria Hall last Saturday night. It was Wistaria's first social event of the season.

Forty couples danced to the music of Ronny Segala's orchestra. Refreshments were served during intermission. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Edith H. Decker, Mr. Alfred R. Wolff, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sapelli.

B'nai B'rith Wins

Alpha Gamma Phi's basketball team bowed recently to the superior forces of the B'nai B'rith quintet by a score of 35-30.

The two teams had met twice previously each winning a game. The victory clinched the series for the B'nai B'rith team with a series record of 2-1.

Winding up the verbal end of the program was Reigh Carpenter, who discussed the ramifications of the student activities fee and explained the way in which it would affect veteran students under the GI Bill of Rights. Following Mr. Carpenter's report, the floor was opened to questions about any part of the preceding program.

In addition to the oral reports given at the assembly, a mimeographed progress statement drawn up by the remaining council members was presented to the students. This statement contained the committee reports concerning a proposed athletic association, faculty and subject rating sheets, Gridiron week plans, snack bar improvements, auditing system for student funds, student ethics, and a campus chest for charitable purposes.

A secretary is desperately needed by the Public Relations Committee. Is there anyone who can type fairly well with a little spare time they would care to donate to a good cause. . . . Ted Harris, National NSA president, will speak here March 17th. . . . Just in case anyone is wondering what the initials NSA stand for, they mean National Student Association.

KBR, All-Stars, Champs in Net Playoffs

By BILL CHAMBAULT

Kappa Beta Rho and the Fraternity All-Stars were victorious in last Saturday's basketball twin bill at the Armory to give the "Frats" a complete sweep of the championships in the winter IM sports program. The two hoop successes came on the heels of Beta Alpha's shut-out win over Park Hall on Friday in the bowling play-off.

Sparked by the brilliant Tom Feeney and the two Casey brothers, Bob and Walt, KBR, undefeated "frat" champs had little difficulty in eliminating the threat of the Parkwoods, 44-35. Feeney, Casey, and Casey combined to tally a total of 37 points, two more than the losers were able to register. Kal Dworken, with 13 markers, was the only player who hit double-figures for the Parkwoods. KBR broke quickly on top, spurted into a long early lead, and then just coasted home.

The "Frat" All-Stars were extended to the limit by the dorm representatives before winning 23-22 in a squeaker. Although boasting the games top-scorer in Will Youmans of West Hall who hit for 13 points, the dormitory squad was unable to pull the decision out. After trailing throughout most of the opening half, the "Frats" came on strongly during the final sixteen minutes to assume the lead, and while severely tested, managed to hang on until the finish.

Bowling Championship

Beta Alpha experienced surprisingly little trouble from Park Hall in their championship bowling match to triumph rather easily, 2-0. BA never trailed in the first game and were only briefly behind during the rolling of the second and clinching contest, however, they began hitting from the fourth frame on, and won by twenty pins. Their opening game margin was 60 pins.

Park was definitely off in the deciding match. They bowled their worst games of the year with not one man reaching a score of 95. The performance was a sharp contrast to the excellent showing made in their special play-off match with Sigma Phi Alpha "2" for the right to meet BA in the finals.

In their encounter with SPA "2", Park averaged 95 pins per man. The team hit a total of 522 in the second game to fall only 11 markers short of the record 533 set by the Schemers on the last day of the season. Their winning margin was only 18 pins, however, as their opponents also passed the select 500 mark with 504, Park won the

Girls' Team Ties Gremlins, 10-10

The Women's basketball team of UB played 32 thrilling minutes of basketball against the Gremlins and after the dust of battle had cleared, the score was 10-10. According to the rules the girls use, a tie is not permitted to go over into an overtime.

The game was an excellent display of ball handling, passing, and zone defense. The low score indicates the excellent defensive play of both sides.

The team missed the services of Joan Hutchinson, who will return to action Thursday night in the game against the Sterling House girls. Participating in the Gremlin game were Rose Demirjian, Jeanette Grauel, Marjorie Ciscero, Thora Carr, Kay DeWitt, Katherine Ruskey, Tony Salvucci, Phoebe Warshaw, Jean Klose, and Carol Clark.

Junior College Net Men Win Conference Trophy

In twenty intercollegiate games, UB managed to win only six times. . . . The junior varsity and the girls' team could do not better. . . . Coach Tony Iannone's jayvees finished the season with a 5-9 record. . . . And the girls, who are scheduled to play two more contests, have won one while losing six.

The only bright spot of a dismal season has been the success of the junior college five in winning, for the second consecutive time, the conference trophy. . . . UB varsity tallied a total of 1142 points against its opponents' 1204.

Co-captain Cy Daly garnered 342 markers in twenty games, an average of 18 tallies per contest. . . . Charlie Kozulko and Ed Dietrich were closest to Daly with 110 and 103 points, respectively. . . . The Purple Knights dunked the highest number of points against St. Basils, 94.

Coach Glines will lose two key men when Daly and Co-captain Johnny Barron graduate in June.

. . . The rest of the squal, however, will remain intact. . . . Unless suitable replacements can be found for Daly and Barron, and unless more depth is added to the bench, the Glinesmen can look forward to another miserable season. . . . A sizzling rivalry, which may in time surpass the local high school rivalries in popularity, started when Fairfield University copped two tilts from UB.

I. M. Track Meet To Be Held May 7

Plans for an intramural track meet to be run Saturday, May 7, were announced last week by Coach Tony Iannone, UB's sports director.

Entrants in the competition must run under the colors of either a dormitory or a fraternity. No contestant will be allowed to compete unattached.

However, a man interested in competing, but not listed on the roster of either a dormitory or a fraternity, may join one for the meet.

There will be twelve events, eight running, and four field. The flat races will include the 100-yd. dash, 220-yd. dash, the quarter mile, half-mile, the mile, two miles, the half-mile relay, and the 400-yd. shuttle relay. Listed under the field events are the broad and high jumps, the shot-put, and the discus.

Point scoring in the match will be five points for first place, three for second, and one point for third spot finish. The dormitory or fraternity team with the highest point total will receive the team trophy. There will be no other awards made to either the runner-up squad or for individual efforts.

Cheerleaders Ask For New Recruits

The Cheerleaders Club, slated to lose six members by graduation, has issued an urgent request for new recruits. Jean Peterson, secretary, and one of the departing members, and Tony Iannone, sports head, handed out similar statements last week stating that any candidates interested in joining the organization contact either them or John Carlson, president.

When the new cheerleaders have been selected the group will hold an important meeting to discuss new plans for the approaching football campaign. Tryouts have been scheduled for the early spring.

Ski Club Elects Martin, President

Warren Martin was appointed president of the Ski Club at the March 2 meeting to succeed Norman Hansen who resigned last week. Russell McLaughlin will assume the duties of treasurer for the remainder of the season.

The club plans to participate in a "field day", sponsored by the Conn. Ski Council at Mohawk Mountain in the near future. The newly organized ski team will have entrants in the Conn.'s Men's Downhill which is to be held at Mohawk on the following weekend, March 12 and 13.

Mock Legislature

presented, UB will introduce a stronger Fair Employment Practices Law, the reorganization of congressional districts, a six-week teacher training course for elementary and secondary school teachers to be required every three years, the setting up of a judiciary appointment committee and referendum so as to take that branch of the government further away from politics, and the outlawing of capital punishment.

UB Committee Members

Members of the committees from UB are Agricultural and Elections, William Giles; Constitutional Amendments, Robert Gleason; Education, Edna Hindie; Finance and Appropriations, John Karlac; Judiciary, Thomas McGannon; Labor, Public Works, and Public Utilities, Isidore Pomper; Motor Vehicles and Liquor Control, Stewart Baker; and Public Institutions, Welfare and Health, Jacqueline Keefe.

New Documentary Film Available

"This Is Their Story," a twenty minute documentary film dealing with student conditions around the world, jointly produced by the World Student Service Fund and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, is now available to interested groups through the audio-visual aids department, it was announced this week by Benjamin Raubvogel, director of the NSA Campus Commission's International Relations Committee.

The film is a portrayal of the problems faced by students in all the war devastated nations, the physical handicaps, studying in universities where libraries and laboratories were wiped out by war, and their struggle to learn under these conditions.

Additional information concerning the needs of students as shown in the film may be obtained by contacting Ben Raubvogel at the Student Government Office, Howland Hall.
